

Paired representation effects with 95% confidence intervals

Differences use 10,000 class-stratified paired bootstrap replicates across 178 samples.

Note: Positive differences favour structured JSON. The exact McNemar test is the primary paired accuracy test; the remaining bootstrap intervals are supporting effect estimates.